Jessica,

Proof v2 attached. I pulled the copy straight off the run of show Claire sent me in May and cross-checked the door time and the two prices against the ticket page the same afternoon, so everything on it should be current as of today.

Changes from v1: the anniversary numeral is bigger, the quartet line sits under the ensembles rather than beside them, and I dropped the sponsor strip you didn't like. Type is Futura-ish; if you want the whole thing warmer I can push the brass wash.

The press deadline for the 18x24 run is mid September - Kelso needs artwork ten working days out. After that goes it's gone, they won't recall a run for a copy change.

One thing I'd flag: I don't get notified when anything moves on your end. If a time or a price changes after today this proof is just a picture of what was true in August.
