OSTERREICHISCHES KUNSTMUSEUM — Education Office

Docent Training Handout Style Reference

Applies to: printed one-page study sheets for walking tour stops

1. Page format

Element	Rule
Page orientation	Landscape
Page size	A5 (148 mm by 210 mm)
Target pixel dimensions	1748 wide by 1240 tall, minimum
Effective resolution	150 dpi minimum, 300 dpi preferred
File format	PNG, single page
Colour mode	RGB, cream background

2. Content zones

Zone	Placement	Content
Header band	Top strip, full width	Building or stop title, one line, left aligned
Cover photograph	Left two-thirds	Signal photograph of the stop, with four numbered callouts
Biographical block	Right one-third	Featured artist, dates, salon note, four to six lines
Callout legend	Below the photograph	Numbered list matching the callouts on the image
Museum wordmark	Footer right	Kunstmuseum wordmark in black on cream

3. Callouts on the cover photograph

Every study sheet carries exactly four numbered callouts on the cover photograph. Numbers are drawn in solid coloured circles, 60 to 90 pixels across at the sheet resolution, with a thin white halo so they stay readable against dark stone or shadow. The corresponding numbered legend sits below the photograph so docents can walk the cohort through the features in order.

4. Filing and release

Every completed study sheet is filed inside the Docent Training course in Google Classroom as a materials entry, under the topic that best matches the stop. Filing as materials makes the sheet visible to invited docents but does not push a notification to the cohort. Study sheets are never released as announcements without the director’s prior review.

5. Wordmark

Use the plain typeset wordmark ‘OSTERREICHISCHES KUNSTMUSEUM’ in the bottom-right footer. Do not substitute a logo mark. The wordmark is set in caps, spaced letters, black on the cream page background.
