Note for Amanda

James Harris, Choir President | October 7, 2026

Amanda,

Piedmont are booked for the sanctuary Tuesday the 13th at ten, same slot we always take, and I've held the room for them on the calendar. Dana tells me the platform will be done and dusted by Friday night and the room handed back, so on paper we're fine.

If it turns out the sanctuary isn't right — and I'll be honest, I've heard that promise from him before — could we not just have Piedmont do it over in the fellowship hall instead? I've asked Michael to leave the hall open Tuesday morning either way so we have somewhere to go. I took a look in there Wednesday and it seemed clear enough to me, but you know that room better than I do, so have a look before we commit to anything.

The other thing is Dana's change order. He's been in my ear about it and I told him it goes through the proper channel like everything else. He may well try you directly. Whatever he says I've told him, the answer is it waits for you and the committee, not me.
