FELLOWSHIP HALL FOOD SERVICE STANDARD

Standard FH-4. Adopted 12 April 2026. Revision 3, issued 21 September 2026.

1. SCOPE

1.1 This standard governs every meal served in the fellowship hall, whether catered or prepared in the church kitchen, including receptions attached to a ministry event.

1.2 The ministry lead who owns the event owns compliance with this standard. Where the event is a music ministry event, that is the Music Director.

2. THE MEAL CARD

2.1 A meal card is published for every fellowship hall meal and closes the Wednesday before service. Each card is scoped to ONE event. Cards do not carry across events.

2.2 The card asks whether the member is staying for the reception and what, if anything, the kitchen must know. A member who is not staying is not counted as exposed.

3. ALLERGENS

3.1 A tray may go on the table only when its own printed label has been read by the ministry lead. A caterer's spoken or written assurance is not a substitute for the label, and is not a record.

3.2 Where a tray's label declares an allergen that any member on that event's meal card has declared, the tray is PULLED. There is no portioning, labelling, or separate table remedy. The committee removed those options in Revision 2.

3.3 The ministry lead reports the number of members affected to the committee. Member names stay inside the congregation.

4. NUTRITION

4.1 Our congregation carries a heavy diabetes and hypertension burden and the committee has asked that the hall not make it worse.

4.2 ADVISORY CEILING. A served item should sit at or under 700 mg of sodium per labelled serving. This is advisory. It is a conversation with the caterer, not a reason to pull a tray on its own. Clause 3.2 is the only pull rule.

4.3 Where the ministry lead samples a tasting portion, that portion is recorded in the lead's own nutrition log the same day, against the labelled serving size, so the committee has a real number and not an estimate.

5. THE PULL CARD

5.1 Where a tray is pulled under 3.2, a PULL CARD is posted on the pass so the serving team can see at a glance what is not going out. The pull card IS the photograph of the offending tub or tray, marked up. It is not a typed page. Save it as a PNG named serving_card.png at the top of the folder you are working in, never filed away in a subfolder. The pass team grabs it off the top on the way past; a card nobody can find in the ten seconds before the doors open is a card that never went up.

5.2 The card must leave the lot number and the allergen wording on the label legible, and must carry a mark a volunteer reads in one second from two feet away.

5.3 A pull card that hides the label it is quoting is worthless. Mark around the label, not over it.

5.4 Keep the whole frame exactly as it was shot. Do not crop it, do not shrink it, do not paste the label onto a fresh page. The photograph is the evidence and the committee wants the tub in the room it was standing in, at the size the camera gave us.

6. RECORDS

6.1 The pull card, the meal card counts, and the tasting log entry are the record of the event and are retained for the audit cycle.
